Venice city auto stickers on sale

Venice city license stickers for cars and trucks will go on sale tomorrow, May 1, at the Venice City Hall. The cost is $3 each. On June 1, the price of stickers will rise to $5 each and Venice police will begin issuing warning tickets to cars without a valid sticker.

Perot meeting set

Illinois Citizens for Perot is sponsoring a training meeting Sunday in Springfield for anyone interested in participating in a petition drive. The petitions would put the undeclared independent candidate, H. Ross Perot, on the presidential ballot in Illinois.

The meeting will be held at noon at the Springfield Holiday Inn Northeast. No reservations are necessary. To put Perot on the ballot requires 25,000 valid signatures in the state. For information, persons may call Don Michael, Southern Illinois coordinator, at (618) 833-3303.

75th anniversary

St. Stanislaus Society 1004 will celebrate its 75th anniversary Sunday, May 3. Members and guests will meet at the Polish Hall at 10:30 a.m. and march to St. Mary's Church for an 11 a.m. Mass. A catered dinner will be served at 12:30 p.m. Edward G. Dyball, national president, Polish Roman Catholic Union of America, will speak. Dancing will be held from 3 to 7 p.m., with music by the Jay Jay Polka Leaders.

Road work isolates Pontoon stores Merchants are upset

By Randy Vaughn
Staff writer

Businesses near Pontoon Road in Pontoon Beach are weary of road construction that has hindered traffic and limited their income.

The Illinois Department of Transportation project to widen Pontoon Road to three lanes has been poorly managed, some business operators believe, citing what they call the slow pace of the work.

"The whole business district is complaining," Dennis Ridgeway of Ridgeway's Restaurant said.

"They knocked out the power, water and gas on the north side of the road when they put in the sewer (drainage) system, while blocking entrances and exits. It's consistently stopping the flow of traffic and hurting business severely."

The project has been under way since November and is scheduled to be finished near the end of this year, IDOT officials said. Thiems Construction Co. of Edwardsville is the contractor.

"We haven't received any (complaining) phone calls here. I haven't heard anything," Thiems official Randy Hunt said Tuesday. He said the on-site supervisor is Bruce Long.

Twelve to 15 businesses are being adversely affected by the construction, Ridgeway said. He estimated his restaurant has lost 40 to 50 percent of its customer traffic over the last five months.

"At one point two weeks ago, they closed the road entirely," he said.

The project is taking a painful long time, said Carole Canady, owner of Sunshine Unlimited Christian Bookstore.

The work is discouraging motorists and blocking business driveways, she said.

"Sometimes they're rerouting traffic around our businesses, but the ditches and barricades are scaring patrons away from the area. People are mostly just avoiding this area," she commented.

"We understand the interruption, but it's getting out of hand. I was almost run off the road the other night because a poor gentleman couldn't figure out where he was supposed to be on the road, with all the barricades."

Canady said the project has not been a bit financially because it disrupted Christmas and Easter shopping, two big holidays for a Christian bookstore.

"I've had about a 25 percent reduction in patron traffic through my store."

"A lady came to the store and told me that she had earlier parked her car in the parking lot and stepped out when a workman told her she had to leave because they were going to block the exits," Canady said.

"It would not be a problem if they would finish a job as they go, but they won't," Cole Beatty of CBC Pools said.

"They're just interested in putting the trunk line in because that's how they make their money. They're not doing the incidents like putting the inlets and catch basins in and closing the ditch up."

Beatty is concerned about his swimming pool business season, which runs from the first of (See ROAD, Page 10A)

3 hurt in school bus accident

By Randy Vaughn

Two Frohardt Elementary School students suffered minor injuries Tuesday afternoon when their school bus collided with a pickup truck on Pontoon Road near Sara Street.

The students were among about 30 children, ages 7-12, on the bus when the collision occurred about 2:45 p.m., according to police.

Misty Beavin, 12, and Kristin Tindall, 10, both of 3801 Lake Drive, Pontoon Beach, were treated and released at St. Elizabeth Medical Center. Also treated was the driver of the truck, Larry Nichols, 34, of the 400 block of Bruene Avenue, Pontoon Beach.

The bus driver, Marcia Ashoff, 40, was cited for failure to reduce speed to avoid an accident.

The bus is said to have struck the back of the pickup about one-tenth of a mile west of the Alton & Southern Railroad crossing on Pontoon Road.

The children were heading home from school, Granite City Police Captain K.I. Pomeroy said, adding that a number of the children were apparently taken to the hospital by their parents after returning home. Nichols' vehicle was reportedly stopped in traffic by a flagman during construction on Pontoon Road when the bus struck his vehicle.

There was no indication that an ambulance called to the scene had difficulty traveling through the construction on Pontoon Road, Pomeroy said. Fire officials said there was more of a problem with dispatch directions to the accident site than from the construction work.

City sees major problems Deficit of more than $1 million predicted

By Bob Slate

Granite City may hire a consulting firm to help reorganize its present staff structure.

The job has traditionally been done by the mayor's staff and the City Council. But an economic picture that foretells "doom and gloom," in the words of City Attorney Mark Goldenberger, has prompted consideration of the action.

Mayor Von Dee Cruse said the action could "streamline" the operations of the city. He said a group of city business leaders proposed the idea, and the group is willing to help pick up a portion of the $33,000 cost.

The city may be looking at a deficit of more than $1 million in the next two years, according to preliminary budget figures provided by City Comptroller K.F. MacTaggart.

"We've got to do one of two things. We've got to lay people off or we've got to raise taxes," Cruse said.

He said hiring a consultant to determine what action the city should take would "take every one off the hook."

He added that he thought any tax increase should be put to the voters via a referendum. He also said he was pretty sure any tax hike referendum would fail.

"Our taxes are high now," he said. "Before we do anything like that, we have to show we're operating in an efficient manner."

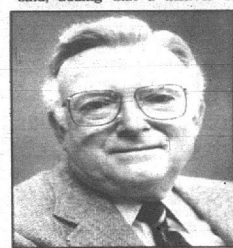

"Who knows? We may think we're doing everything right, but an outside, professional consultant is better qualified to make that judgment."

Alderman Dan Partney wholeheartedly supported the proposal, but said that "a lack of leadership" makes the move necessary.

"It is the mayor's responsibility to present a budget and recommendations to the City Council," Partney said. But he added that the council has complicated the budget process.

"Because we all have our pet departments, we go through the same process every year and get nowhere," Partney said.

"Every department (in the city) can probably justify maintaining the same level of funding they have now. But some hard decisions are going to be made."

He said the City Council would still have the final say on the budget and any other recommendations. (See DEFICIT, Page 10A)

Granite City's long-awaited new downtown retail development is in the works.

The City Council on Tuesday night authorized the mayor to enter an agreement for a retail development in the block bounded by Madison and Grand avenues and 20th and 21st streets.

The proposed development includes a 14,000-square-foot pharmacy and food mart to be located on the westernmost 200 feet of the block. (from 20th

Age clouds pool's future

By Randy Vaughn

The 1992 opening of the Wilson Park swimming pool could be delayed or canceled.

During a pre-season inspection by the Granite City Park District, it was determined that areas of concrete in the wall and floor of the pool had deteriorated to an unsafe point.

"There have been repairs in the past, but the pool is 82 years old and we're having trouble keeping up with it," Steve Kessel, director of parks and recreation, said.

The pool was scheduled to open May 23, but the Park District's Board of Commissioners unanimously agreed April 22 to first obtain an engineering firm to make a more detailed inspection.

R.W. MacDermott and Associates Consulting Engineers of St. Louis may be hired to conduct a study and make recommendations.

The opening date of the pool may be delayed until the engineering study can be completed and then reviewed by the board for further action, Kessel said.

"We wouldn't want to put the public in the pool unless we were sure of its safety," he said. "If there is severe damage, we would have to bid the repairs out. If the damage is minor, our crew could do it."

A worst-case scenario would be the pool not operating this summer, Kessel said, adding: "The best thing that could happen is that our staff would be able to do the repairs, allowing us to open on time or with only a slight delay."

'Miracle baby'

Tiny infant now healthy girl

By Randy Vaughn
Staff writer

It was misty, cloudy and gray just before the dawn nearly 12 years ago when a one-pound, 10-ounce baby girl was born three months prematurely.

Misty Dawn Clark was described as a "miracle baby" in a story published by this newspaper a year later, on Mother's Day 1981.

Medical personnel and family members had feared that the infant might not live.

"I was so happy when she survived the first day, then the second, then the third. We all did a lot of praying," Sharon Fedora, an aunt of the child, said.

"I wasn't prepared for what I saw the first time I laid eyes on her. She was so tiny. They had a mask on her eyes to protect them. There were no clothes on her frail body. She kind of looked like a small, helpless bird lying there."

Misty Dawn Clark will turn 12 on May 1. She is an encouragement to women who give birth to a premature child, and proof that such a little human being can survive and thrive, Fedora said. Misty, the daughter of Ron and Christi Clark of the 2100 block of Dawn Place in Granite City, was born at St. Elizabeth Medical Center in Granite City on May 1, 1980. She was quickly transported to Cardinal Glennon Children's Hospital, St. Louis, where she stayed 26 days, fighting for her life. She was transferred to the East St. Louis Community Hospital. Vadalabene ill, missing session SPRINGFIELD — Veteran state Sen. Sam Vadalabene was excused for illness when the Legislature returned into session Tuesday.

Vadalabene, 77, said in a telephone interview Tuesday that he was resting at his Edwardsville home after being hospitalized four days in St. Anthony's Hospital in Alton.

Vadalabene said he "had some blood transfusions" for anemia while in the hospital. "I had hoped to go back to Springfield today (Tuesday) but I didn't have enough strength," the Democrat said.

The 25-year Legislature veteran said he hoped to return to Springfield later this week. Vadalabene has had heart surgery and other health problems, but he had not missed any legislative business the past few years.

This week is the deadline for bills to get out of committee, and other senators have been handling Vadalabene-sponsored bills on his behalf. He checked on their progress by phone Tuesday.

'Law Day' program offers residents free legal advice

Any legal matter is open game when the Tri-City Bar Association opens up telephone lines Saturday.

"That's the good part about it. About 50 percent of the calls will be neighbor disputes, but basically we will try to help people with anything," said event chairman Clarence Harrison.

From 10 a.m. to 1 p.m. anyone with a question is invited to call 876-8440 to talk to an attorney. Harrison said he expects to have at least four attorneys at all times, and said he expected they would stay pretty busy.

"Obviously we are not going to be able to solve felony cases," Harrison said. "Normally they will talk for a couple minutes, under five, so we can offer the service to as many people as possible."

The May 2 "Law Day" — created in response to the former Soviet Union's May 1 "May Day" — is in its second year locally and its 11th statewide. Harrison noted the Russians use the day to parade their military might in a show of communism's power. "Ask an attorney is" our celebration of the Democratic system," he said.

Attorneys from local offices will answer the telephones at the Morris B. Chapman and Associates office in Granite City, but Harrison said the operation will not be set up to handle walk-in service.

"If people have trouble getting through, they should try back later," he said. "Most local firms are trying to send participants."

The attorneys also will tell the caller if the legal system is not the best route for their complaint.

"A lot of times we get to the point where it may be a legal matter, but is more a practical matter that you have to resolve," Harrison said.

The attorneys who participate volunteer their time, but hope to earn something for their profession.

"It's a chance for lawyers to show we're interested in trying to help out the community," Harrison said.

Three charged with burglary

A Granite City man and two Cahokia men were charged with burglary in warrants issued this week by Madison County State's Attorney William Haine.

Kevin R. Jeter II, 27, of the 2200 block of Grand Avenue and Larry M. Steward, 19, and Bobby R. Jeter, 18, both of Cahokia, were all charged in connection with the burglary on Saturday, April 25, of a building in the 2000 block of Edison Avenue, Granite City.

Bobby Jeter was also charged with obstruction of justice. Granite City police allege that he gave Steward's name and birth date at the time of his arrest.

He was being held this week in the Madison County Jail in lieu of $75,000 bond and Kevin Jeter and Steward were being held there in lieu of $50,000 bond each.

Man charged with 2nd license offense

A Granite City man was charged April 28 by Madison County State's Attorney William Haine with driving with a revoked driver's license, second subsequent offense.

Granite City police allege that Chester L. Hodge, 27, of the 1600 block of Kirkpatrick Homes was convicted of driving with a revoked license Dec. 16, 1991. They contend he drove a 1981 Chevy Impala auto on Missouri Avenue in Granite City on April 24.

Bond was set at $15,000.

Schools may seek voice on plant site

By Randy Vaughn
Staff writer

The Granite City School Board may seek to become involved in the site decision regarding a proposed Eticam plant in Granite City.

Dr. Mark Eavenson, board president, said this week he will recommend at the May 12 board meeting that the board send a letter to the City Council in an effort for the school district to play a role in the decision-making.

Eticam hopes to build a hazardous-wastewater treatment plant near Illinois 3, about 3,000 feet from Prather Elementary School.

The Board of Education sent a letter March 6 asking the Illinois Environmental Protection Agency to concern itself with the protection of students at the school in its construction permit decision.

The IEPA replied that it has no authority to decide the placement of the plant.

Prior to the IEPA's review of the permit application, siting approval must have been granted by the local city government, according to IEPA officials.

"Since the site is within Granite City, the City Council had the authority to grant approval of Eticam's request for this particular location. The IEPA was not involved in the siting process and must now base its permitting decisions solely on the technical merits of the permit application," Mara McGinnis, IEPA public participation coordinator, said.

"We were sitting back, taking a look at what's going to happen. But now that the plant apparently has been thrown upon us, we would like to have some impact on where it's placed in the city," Eavenson said.

He said he is unsure whether a letter to the city would have an effect, since the school board decided not to be involved in a tour by local officials of a similar Eticam plant in Nevada.

The IEPA will hold a public hearing at 7 p.m. May 26 in the Granite City High School auditorium to provide residents an opportunity to voice their comments regarding the plant proposal.

School plan would hike taxes, Governor warns

A proposed constitutional amendment to bolster support for education would also boost state income taxes, Gov. Jim Edgar said.

But Carlinville School Superintendent Randy Tindler contends that the two are separate issues.

The Illinois Senate has approved placing the amendment before voters in November, and the House is expected to follow suit.

The state constitution now says the state has the "primary responsibility" for financing public education. The amendment calls for a "fundamental guarantee" of an "adequate education" and makes financing the "paramount responsibility" of the state.

Edgar said his staff interpreted the amendment as requiring the state to provide at least 51 percent of education financing.

The state now picks up only about 33 percent.

A three-fifths majority vote of the people would be needed to amend the constitution. Such a change would cost at least $3 billion more a year and require boosting state income tax rates by 50 percent, Edgar said. He said the 3 percent tax on individuals would increase to 4.5 percent.

"The voters would be mandating an income tax increase for education, and I wouldn't stay in the way of that," Edgar said.

However, he said he was personally neutral on the proposed amendment. "I'm not saying whether I had for or against it," he said.

Edgar added it would be hypocritical for a lawmaker to put the amendment on the ballot and not be willing to vote for an income tax increase if voters approved the amendment.

Tindler said the amendment was obviously a response to the lawsuit and that it was too early to tell what effect it might have on the court case.

SIUE enrollment is up 6 percent

Increasing competition for jobs and demands for employees with higher skills have put more students behind desks at SIUE.

The spring quarter's enrollment is 10,609, up 6 percent over last spring at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville.

Richard Dremuk, assistant vice president for admissions and retention, said, "More and more students are recognizing the need to get a degree and are continuing their studies."

The increase is being fueled by both adults returning to college and more high school students going straight into universities and junior colleges.

Lewis and Clark Community College in Godfrey has posted enrollment increases for several years. Enrollment was up 5 percent this spring semester to 5,577.

And once students finish a two-year associate's degree, more are transferring to four-year colleges.

At SIUE, class enrollment jumps from 1,289 freshmen and 1,461 sophomores to 2,071 juniors, mostly because of community college transfers, Dremuk said.

SIUE is also seeing a swelling graduate-student population.

"A bachelor's degree is still marketable in a number of areas. But when people get jobs, they are finding it necessary to get additional skills," Dremuk said.

"Students who earn a bachelor's and find jobs, in a number of fields realize they need additional skills."

The 2,450 graduate students enrolled at SIUE make up the second largest group at the university, second only to the 2,964 seniors.

Enrollment has continued to rise at the university since 1986. The last spring enrollment near this year's was in 1977, when there were 10,604 students.

The number of part-time students grew from 3,895 to 4,271.

Carlyle Lake project gets funding

Gov. Jim Edgar has announced that the state will provide up to $2 million in funding to the City of Carlyle for public infrastructure work that will clear the way for development of a resort and golf course at Carlyle Lake.

"I am tapping funds that must be used for park and recreational purposes to help make possible the development of a resort complex that is expected to employ more than 100 people and assist economic development in the Carlyle area," the governor said.

"Our agreement with the city calls for the private sector to pay 100 percent of the estimated $10 million needed to develop the resort itself."

Edgar made the announcement at Carlyle Lake during a presentation attended by state and local officials.

The resort will be operated similarly to a state park lodge, through a long-term lease with the Illinois Department of Conservation. The department will manage the land upon which the development will be located, pending approval by the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers.

The development will feature a 120-room lodge, with an indoor pool, a restaurant and conference rooms and an 18-hole golf course with a pro shop. It will be developed by Bill Warren of Warren Land Co., Carlyle.

When completed, the resort is expected to add $10 million to the state's tourism industry and yield $420,000 annually in tax revenues.

THE LAW AND YOU

By RICK REED
Attorney At Law

Sometimes people will take their car in for service, and the mechanic will give them a quote regarding the total cost of repairs. What happens if the final bill for the repair work is more than the original estimate? Is the owner obligated to pay the additional charges?

It should be noted at the outset that the mechanic can claim a "mechanic's lien" and refuse to release the vehicle to the owner until the bill is paid. In some cases, this can work a hardship on the owner who tests he has been cheated, but nevertheless the law does give this protection to the mechanic or workman.

In one recent case, a couple took their truck to a local garage for transmission work. They were told that the total cost of repair would not exceed $520.00. Unfortunately, there was no written estimate, and the entire transaction consisted of oral representations between the parties.

When the owners of the truck went to pick up the vehicle, they were told that the total cost of repair was $800.00. The owner refused to pay the mechanic, and the mechanic indicated that he would not release the vehicle unless payment in full was made. The owner sought legal advice, and he was dismayed to learn that the repairman could claim a mechanic's lien in this case unless payment was made in full.

The remedy for the owner in this case consists of paying the bill in full, taking the vehicle home, and suing the mechanic for breach of contract for the difference between the $800.00 payment and $520.00 quote. Whereas this works a hardship on the consumer who feels there has been misrepresentation by the mechanic, nevertheless most vehicle owners have an immediate need for the car to be returned to them. Therefore, the only way to handle a case like this is to pay the bill in full and sue for the difference between the quote and the ultimate bill. This can usually be done in small claims court where claims are handled relatively quickly and efficiently.

Editorials

Who knows how safe is safe?

In a memo he probably never thought would be made public, an official of the World Bank suggested that the bank actively seek to locate industries with a high potential for hazardous pollution in poor developing countries.

His reasoning? Most of the health problems and diseases associated with hazardous pollutants, such as cancer and chronic respiratory diseases, strike people over the age of 50. In a poor developing country where the life expectancy is only 45 of 50 years, the official said, the number of hazard-related health cases "would be statistically insignificant" and therefore "send up no warning flags" about the safety of the operation.

Translated from bureaucratic gobbledegook, this means that if a person dies young enough, they'll never have to worry about their health. Besides, dead men tell no tales. Although callous, statistically this argument makes sense. And that's frightening, because all of us know it is wrong, wrong, wrong.

But can we prove it? Can we take that passionate gut feeling and put it into an unfeeling, objective, black-and-white argument that would have a chance at a public hearing against cold, calculated statistical facts?

After all, the chances are very good that not one person will actually die as a result of the pollution. Can something deadly still be called deadly if it doesn't kill anyone?

Questions like this can make dealing with agencies responsible for the public's health and safety like the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency, the Illinois Environmental Protection Agency and the Illinois Department of Public Health — the stuff of which nightmares are made. Everything they do seems to be based on statistics.

Only 16 percent of the young children in Granite City have high blood lead levels. That's one out of every 10 or 11. So, the EPA wants to reduce it to about 5 percent of the children. That's one out of every 20. Sound safe enough?

At 5 percent, if you have sons and daughters in elementary school, each of the children would, statistically, have a classmate with a high blood lead level. What if it's your neighbor's child? What if it's your child's best friend? What if it's your child?

Still safe enough? Reduce it to one-half percent. That's one out of every 200. About one from each elementary school. Maybe it's your child's classmate. Maybe it's not. Maybe it's your child's good friend and maybe it's only someone he or she has seen in the hall. Is that possibility remote enough? Is it safe to call that safe?

Logically, each of us knows that we can never expect life, even for our children, to be completely free of risk. At the same time, each of us knows it is our responsibility as a society to make the lives of all children as free of risk as possible. To do that, agencies like the EPA, IEPA and IDPH use statistics.

What's a statistic? Six hundred people who die in an earthquake in Turkey. Three hundred people killed in a train wreck in South America. Even 241 U.S. Marines killed in a terrorist bombing in Beirut.

But it's not a statistic when a neighbor's child dies. It's a tragedy. So the questions we would ask the EPA, IEPA and IDPH are: How many tragedies does it take to make a statistic? How safe is safe?

We not only deserve answers, we deserve answers that we, and our children, can live with.

Appropriate names for parks

Park names are a fitting way to note the good works of outstanding citizens, because the sites become permanent reminders of the individuals' positive impact on their community.

That being the case, the Granite City Park District has acted appropriately in designating the former West Granite Park as Barry Loman Park and the former Webster School campus as Randall Robertson Park.

At the latter park at Kilde and Edwards streets, dedication ceremonies are planned for 3 p.m. this Sunday, May 3. Ceremonies saluting Loman were held at "his" park last Saturday.

Both men are lifelong local residents. Loman, a banker, has served on the Park Board for more than 40 years. Robertson, an attorney, has been the park district's legal counsel for more than 40 years. Those facts alone would justify honoring them, but those facts are only the "tip of the iceberg" of their varied and effective efforts to make Granite City a fine place to live.

For example, Loman as general chairman spearheaded the mammoth 75th anniversary celebration of the city of Granite City in 1971. Park president for a total of 10 years, he has been elected by fellow residents to 43 years of consecutive service as a park commissioner.

The resolution naming Barry Loman Park relates that, "under his leadership and with his determined efforts, the recreational programs have grown to provide year-round fun and health activities to more than 5,400 annual participants and employ over 250 personnel. Six additional neighborhood parks, a community ice rink and the Harold Brown Recreation Center have been added to the park system properties, and a parks and recreation system that is a part of everyday community life in Granite City has been established."

Loman has tirelessly encouraged the enhancement of recreational programs for citizens of all ages, and has sponsored ... the beautification of park properties and the cooperative use of park facilities with the schools. (He) has epitomized the spirit of unselfish giving in public service and has vested in this community a heritage to be enjoyed by generations to come."

More than 50 persons saw Park Board President Nancy Sanders-Miles present the resolution to him. A message from Sen. Sam Vadalabene was read as a flag from the State Capitol was raised at Loman Park, and the park's sign was unveiled.

Similar words can and will be said about Randall Robertson. He has helped guide the Park District in actions that have "put Granite City on the map" nationally for the scope and quality of its park facilities and programs.

Robertson has led and worked in many causes and has contributed much to a number of meaningful accomplishments, such as those of the Tri-City Regional Port District. Professionally, his busy law career at the helm of Lueders, Robertson and Konzen has been a shining example of wise, ethical, skilled legal practice.

Letters

Regards plant as dangerous

TO THE EDITOR:
I have been following closely the articles concerning the Eitam plant that is wanting to come into the Granite City area. Personally, I find it frightening that these hazardous wastes would be stored so close to a school and to residences. My mother lives within a mile of where the proposed plant is intended and I live within three miles.

I was born and raised in Granite City and I am a retired police officer who has dedicated 31 years of my life as a Granite City police officer. 18½ years of that time as the chief of police. I am aware of the danger of toxic wastes and hazardous materials through the many training sessions I have participated in.

The city's delegation, as represented in your paper, seems to think that all we can do is that plant is built here. They make it appear that no one else is capable of making a judgment.

One person spent his own time to go and examine Eitam's plant in Nevada. You carried his comments in your paper and I believe what he had to say.

I am talking about retired police Capt. Everett Kelly. I worked with him for over 20 years.

He is a very knowledgeable man who has been subjected as a patrol commander to be in the middle of situations which had to do with spills of hazardous materials.

He attended many seminars and even assisted in setting up training programs for the handling of these types of incidents. I have to respect his judgment and observations, knowing his capabilities.

do not have any knowledge of the other officials having any background in this type of emergency.

What I am trying to get across is that, believe it or not, a plant like this is dangerous and hazardous to our citizens and I believe that maybe our officials ought to have the Environmental Protection Agency show them what can happen if an accident occurs.

Our school officials are against this, also. Someone should listen. This could be fatal to a lot of people.

Protect, nurture truth and life

TO THE EDITOR:
Although we've known her, or should I say known of her, for quite awhile, this was the first time we actually got to see our little daughter — Katrina.

Due to a late-pregnancy false alarm, which of course happens and as this is dangerous, we woke up the appropriate number of relatives and rushed to the hospital. By 9 a.m., we were informed nothing major was wrong. Although a night's sleep was gone with the wind, we did get some sound sleep. Ultra-sound photos of our little girl.

Really quite amazing — you could see her profile, her hands. I recall the quiet beat of her heart, clearly heard through the medical monitor.

Funny, at one point I was concerned that one of the read-out machines was out of ink — the little squiggle had stopped. The nurse told me that Katrina's hiccup confused the medical computer.

All around me at that excellent facility, I got the impression that everything was geared for the protection and nurturing of the mother and the human life she carries. Basic truth — life begets life.

From that position of simple truth, we step into the lie in which we live. Sad to say, my wife, who intimately cradles our little daughter, could walk into a clinic and have this "inconvenience" removed — for a fee, of course.

The lie, however, demands you deny the heartbeat, the brain waves, the fingerprints, even the hiccup. The physician who performs this duty must support the lie; how else could he honor his Hippocratic Oath (abortion clause conveniently removed)?

The lie permeates and grows. Big lies have a huge appetite.

Democrats, who hold Thomas Jefferson as founder, are sure he would support the lie. Republicans, so inclined, point to Abraham Lincoln — surely he believed the lie.

Editors, news-anchors, celebrities, politicians, school teachers, all profess the lie. The Supreme Court found the lie in the Constitution — perhaps it was in code.

And some who dare to call themselves Christian ascribe the lie to Him who cannot lie.

And what of the truth? It demands courage. It requires diligence. And only truth will save our nation.

Katrina, I acknowledge your life — yet you live with or without my approval.

I promise to love you as you are. I am not your creator. As you grow, I promise to teach you what's important, what's unchanging, what's eternal —

My deepest desire is to introduce you to Him who said, "I am the truth." But for now, rest and grow — soon I'll hold you.

Political motive not main factor

TO THE EDITOR:
Why is it that politicians seem to think everyone has a secret agenda or political motive?

The citizens in Granite City and surrounding areas have banded together to express their concern about the proposal to locate a hazardous-waste treatment facility in the city.

That is their right. They were denied the opportunity to do that in 1985 when the site for Eitam was chosen.

The people are concerned not only about the safety of their children and grandchildren and no expert can guarantee that the plant will be 100 percent safe — but they are also concerned about their property values.

It is just common sense that property values would decline when the presence of a hazardous-waste facility in town. Any reported accident — a spill, an emission, a release — would hasten that decline. Any benefit to the city would be lost.

The industries such a plant might draw to the area would be those very industries that generate toxic or hazardous waste.

With all the environmental problems the city already has, why should it invite more?

The permit Eitam is applying for from the Illinois Environmental Protection Agency would allow it to receive hazardous waste from anywhere in the country. The city doesn't need it and the citizens don't want it.

The public meeting held by the citizens was criticized because it did not address technical issues. That was not its purpose. It was called to start a dialogue that should have taken place years ago.

The citizens will address technical issues at the public hearing scheduled by the IEPA on May 26. Experts and professionals from the area have volunteered their services and more are encouraged to do so.

Yes, there were undoubtedly people at the meeting who do have a political agenda, and that is their right. But that is not the aim of the citizens group.

Perhaps, rather than trying to question the objectives of concerned residents, the administration and council members should poll their constituents. The fact is the people of Granite City simply do not want more hazardous waste. And that is the truth.

War memorial area beautified

TO THE EDITOR:
The recent planting of about 20 new trees, all varieties and types, at the Greater Granite City War Memorial park is a most welcome sight that adds beauty to this magnificent park.

Talking to Bill Monical, the park head gardener who was in charge of the planting, we were surprised to know of these beautiful trees of different colors that will be blooming shortly. He knows his botany and trees.

Thanks to the DAV Auxiliary and Mary Scarsdale, president, for donation of $150 for the construction of the small gray block fence around the perimeter of the war memorial.

The Park Board has done a fine job in beautifying the downtown area with the tree planting, and everyone should appreciate the efforts.

We would like to take this time to show appreciation for the fine work done and for remembering our fellow service men and women who never made it back from the recent wars.

Flag Day ceremonies will be conducted at Memorial Park on June 14 after the large parade that begins at 1 p.m.

Ants called serious problem this spring

A lot of people are finding extra guests at dinner this spring. And it's "a family of hungry ants," said Mike Dubois, the bug doctor of Acme Pest Control, a company with a branch in Alton. "Hordes of ants are invading homes this season."

"We're busy answering phone calls from people with ants crawling all over the house," said Karen Ervin, office manager of Acme. Millions of ants survived in the ground in a mild winter, and now they're foraging for food in kitchen cabinets.

"It wasn't cold enough to kill the little critters last winter," said Linn Haramis, an entomologist in the Illinois Department of Public Health.

Dubois tracks down ants like Sherlock Holmes. "You have to do a little detective work and find their path into a house," he said.

He crept along the inside of a Wood River home Monday, tracking down the carpenter ant, a bug with a bad reputation. "It takes a good eye and a flashlight to spot their tracks," he said.

Carpenter ants make long trips from their home in the ground to a house for food, Dubois said.

"They'll crawl 100 yards looking for sugar, butter or pieces of meat," he said. "They drag a dead insect, 20 times their weight, back home to feed the family."

Dubois crouched on his hands and knees in the yard looking for an ant trail.

"They crawl out of nests in the dirt, or out of a knothole in a tree," he said. "They drop from limbs of trees onto the roof of a house."

Phil Barnett of Barnett's Termite and Pest Control of Madison tracked an ant trail along electrical wires into a house.

"They crawled up a pole, across a power line 75 feet in the air, and then down a wire into a house," Barnett said.

Dubois sprays insecticides along the inside walls of a home and outside around the foundation. "You have to cut off their path into the house."

Barnett cautioned people who buy insecticides at the store to "be sure to read the labels."

"Termites are the ants' worst enemies," he said. Carpenter ants battle termites for territory inside walls of homes, he said.

If Dubois suspects ants are hiding in a house, he puts his ear to the wall and listens. "You can hear the ants chewing on the wood. They're excavating a hole to lay eggs."

If I leave money around, my brother takes it. There isn't a lot of space because the toys are all over the floor. That's why I think it's hard to share my room."

Danyell Miller, Venice

Bobby Pritchard, Frohardt

"I wouldn't want to share my money. Because I earned it and I want to get what I want. Because they didn't earn the money I got. I might give a little bit to my best friend. It depends on how much money I had. If I didn't give him any money I would probably share what I got with him. If I didn't share with him. Next time when I got more money I would get him something."

Jeff Gofink, Frohardt

"The hardest thing for me to share is my dirt bike. There are only three people that I let ride my dirt bike: they are my cousin Benny, my dad and I. Once I let my other cousin Kenny ride and he almost blew it up. So that's why I don't share my dirt bike."

Volanda Cole, Venice

"The hardest thing for me to share is something concerning my family. When something is really bad. When I do tell someone something they laugh. When they do laugh it makes me sad. They hurt my feelings. That's why I keep my secrets to myself."

Jonathan Burnett, Frohardt

"The hardest thing for me to share are my ideas. If I share my ideas they will be longer be original and if it's not original it is not as good as it is original. Like for instance once in school we were doing an art project and I added a little something. I told my friend and he did the exact same thing. So the teacher thought it was my friend who had the good imagination. So now he's getting to do everything for the teacher. I liked doing art projects and if my ideas aren't original then I won't be as good as I would be if all my ideas were original. The hardest thing for me to share are my ideas."

Unified European market to be U.S. rival, Weidenbaum says

By Jim Haversstick
Staff writer

Murray Weidenbaum, former economic adviser to Ronald Reagan, entertained a crowd of business students at Belleville Area College Monday with his theory on how to solve the trade deficit.

"Let the Japanese sell all the cars they want to us but for every 1,000 cars we buy we ship them 100 U.S. lawyers," Weidenbaum said. "Their productivity will drop while ours will increase."

About 125 students and faculty members gathered Monday morning at BACC to hear Weidenbaum's talk on "American Business and the Global Marketplace."

Weidenbaum, former chairman of Reagan's Council of Economic wide market not just a nation-to-nation market," he said.

In the past, 60 percent of foreign trade in Europe went outside of the European countries to the United States or Asia. Now 60 percent of the foreign trade in Europe is within the continent.

"Europe could become the largest economic market on the face of the globe," Weidenbaum said.

This would probably leave the United States second in the economic race and Japan third, he said.

It is consumers more so than politicians who decide foreign trade policies, he said. Politicians can vote only once on a bill, but consumers cast their votes every day by purchasing foreign made goods rather than American made products.

Weidenbaum

"We think more about price and quality than about where things are made," Weidenbaum said. "Consumers vote for free trade even though they may say they want protectionism."

Weidenbaum warned that in order for American companies to survive the changing global market, they may need to cater to specific markets in the country and the rest of the world rather than trying to fit into every market available.

Weidenbaum was the first assistant secretary of the Treasury for Economic Policy, served as fiscal economist in the U.S. Bureau of the Budget and as a corporate economist at the Boeing Company.

He has been a faculty member at Washington University since 1964 and served as chairman of the economics department from 1966-69.

Weidenbaum is now director of the Center for the Study of American Business and a Malinckrodt Distinguished Professor at Washington University.

Second row: Christine Ballard, Catherine Moreland, Chelsea Peery and Reda Lindsey. Third row: Eva Winters, Kirsten Yobby and Bobbie Chastain.

Junior Group of Unit 307 meets

The Junior Group of Venice-Madison Unit 307 American Legion Auxiliary held its monthly meeting April 13 at the Post 307 Home.

Poppy contest items were displayed and then returned to the girls.

Plans were discussed for costumes for the skit, "Calendar Girl," which will be presented at the Department Junior Conference.

A business meeting was conducted by Kirsten Yobby, president. Final arrangements were made for a trip to Champaign May 1, 2 and 3 to attend the Department Conference.

Kirsten Yobby will be a candidate for president of the Department of Illinois. Other members have been given assignments as pages and display persons.

Each girl is to take a stuffed animal or toy to be given to the Department Children and Youth chairman for children in Illinois hospitals.

The group will present a program on "flag folding" at the Memorial Day services on May 25 at Post 307.

It was announced the Juniors will be the hostess group for a Unit 307 senior meeting June 1.

Each girl was presented with a small Easter gift.

Juniors attending were Carrie Baker, Chrissy Ballard, Rhonda Ballard, Bobbie Chastain, Amanda Foley, Reda Lindsey, Jenna Miller, Megan Miller, Cathy Moreland, Kaleigh Peery, Chelsea Peery, Eva Winters and Kirsten Yobby.

Seniors attending were Cindy Yobby, Dorothy Hinson, Connie Ballard, Rose Moreland and Carla Peery. Kenneth Hinson was a guest.

Illinois senior pageant is set

Secretary of State George H. Ryan has announced that applications for the 1992 Illinois Senior America Pageant are now available.

This year's pageant will be held Aug. 14-16 at the Illinois State Fair in Springfield.

Contestants will be judged on talent, evening gown competition and a short speech about their philosophy of life.

Josephine Swaback of Long Grove was the winner of the 1991 Illinois Senior America Pageant. She will be vying for the national title in Atlantic City.

To request an application or receive more information about the state pageant, women may contact the secretary of state's office at 17 N. State, Suite 1152, Chicago 60602 or telephone 312-793-4946 or 1-800-252-2904.

The deadline for entering the pageant is June 30.

Signup deadline May 1 for farmers

Farmers have an extra two weeks to sign up for 1992 annual commodity acreage reduction programs administered by the U.S. Department of Agriculture's Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service, according to Edward Madigan, secretary of Agriculture. The extension pushes the signup deadline to May 1, two weeks beyond the original deadline of April 17.

"Farmers in a variety of special circumstances have told us it would be helpful to have a little more time for the signup," Madigan said. "This extension is consistent with the president's instruction to accommodate our programs to producers' needs whenever possible."

Minority student information day at SIUE

Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville has scheduled a day of informational activities Friday, May 1, for minority students currently attending Belleville Area College, Kaskaskia College, Lewis and Clark Community College, and State Community College, who wish to transfer to the university.

Activities will begin with registration at 9 a.m. in the Mississippi/Illinois Rooms of the University Center and conclude at 3:30 p.m. Registration is free, and students will receive meal tickets at "hey register."

Trans: "on will be provided for students attending BAC, SCC, and LCCC. Buses will leave BAC at 8 a.m., SCC at 8:40 a.m. and BAC Granite City campus at 9:15 a.m. LCCC students should contact Bobby Everage, academic adviser, at 466-3411 for departure and arrival times.

Following registration, participants will attend an informational session on the admissions process and learn how community college credits transfer to SIUE. Afternoon activities include presentations by academic departments, a minority student panel comprised of current SIUE students, and a housing tour.

Buses will depart from SIUE at 3:30 p.m., arriving at BAC's Granite City campus at 3:45 p.m., SCC at 4:15 p.m. and at BAC at 4:45 p.m.

To register for SIUE's Minority Transfer Day or to obtain additional information, contact the following persons:

Belleville Area College: Vivian Gaman, director of the minority transfer center, 1-800-252-5131.

State Community College, Lincoln, director of the minority transfer center, 583-2627.

Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville: Jerry Hoffman, academic counselor, 1-800-447-SIUE.

Trivia

In 1886, American advocates for workers' rights called for a nationwide strike on May 1 to show support for the 8-hour work day. On that day, more than 500,000 workers stopped work and it was called the "strike that shook the world."

April until the end of September.

"My season is just starting, so I don't know how it will be affected, but the road will be torn up my whole season."

Beatty said he could not get through his driveway last week because workers were dumping dirt and had people waiting to go through.

Beatty said there are 100 barricades at open ditches, and the lights work on only 11 of the barricades.

"We understand the interruption," he said.

dations the consultant might make.

Alderman Sandy Crites said the council should adopt whatever recommendations the consultants submit.

"We must go into this open-mindedly. Otherwise, we're just throwing the money away," Crites said.

Cruse said he would consider whatever recommendations come from the action. Cruse also recommended that the city hire an auditor to review the city's finances. The action would "double-check our controller," and "convince the unions there is no money hidden anywhere," Cruse said. Goldenberg said an independent audit would certainly be a valuable tool in the negotiating process "if it confirms the 'gloom and doom we feel we're looking at.'"

"We are available for assistance, and we've received minimal calls," Roger Watson, IDOT supervising field engineer, said. "We're making every effort to offer commercial access to every interest."

Watson said workmen will soon begin patching portions of the pavement that need repair before the widening and addition of a center lane.

"We will be adding six feet on each side (of Pontoon Road) to minimize the impact on the neighboring properties," he said.

"You cannot widen a road without a period of inconvenience, and we're making an extra effort to allow access for community businesses."

"We've got to do one of two things. We've got to lay people off or we've got to raise taxes."

pital (formerly Christian Welfare Hospital), where she remained for an additional 58 days.

"We had lost a child, who was nearly four months premature, just a year before who was born," Misty's mother said.

"There was a lot of concern, but I told my husband when I went into labor that everything was going to be OK and we would have a girl."

Doctors were concerned about an underdeveloped respiratory system despite Misty's ability to breathe without a respirator.

The child was born with a staph infection and yellow jaundice, Christi Clark said.

Doctors were still not optimistic after 50 days of hospitalization, she said.

"We got to hold her the day before Father's Day, when she weighed two pounds, and it appeared to make a big difference in the baby's progress," the mother said.

The hospital staff instructed the parents on how to take care of the baby. After her weight reached five pounds, she was able to go home with them.

The Clarks continued to take Misty back to the hospital for visits, but problems never returned.

"It took her three or four years to get caught up in weight with other children her age," Christi Clark said, adding that Misty weighed only 15 pounds on her first birthday.

Psychological development, another initial concern, improved as the infant spent time with her brother, Kevin, the mother said.

"He really enjoyed her, whether he would admit it now or not," she said. "He would sit with her and watch Sesame Street (on television) and helped take care of her."

Approaching her 12th birthday tomorrow, the girl is active in soccer, bowling and Girl Scouts, and is on the honor roll at Maryville School, where she is in the sixth grade.

"Misty beat all the odds, and is truly a Heavensent," said Fedora said. "I have never seen a kinder, more considerate, sensitive, caring, thoughtful and appreciative child than she is."

"God truly had a purpose in her survival. She is beautiful in every way."

Volunteers saved state $60 million

Nearly 83,000 Illinois residents volunteered their time to assist state government last year and saved taxpayers more than $60 million, according to a survey released this week by Lt. Gov. Bob Kustra.

"We are grateful to those citizens who offer their time and talents to their state government," Kustra said. "With fewer and fewer dollars to provide services, their commitment and their efforts make a bigger impact than ever before."

But their contributions cannot solely be measured by an accountant's balance sheet. These people are improving the lives of the less fortunate every day — visiting shut-ins, assisting with problems called in to toll-free hot lines, pitching in to help victims of tornadoes, floods and other disasters and volunteering in many other ways.

"The volunteers also are improving their own lives. Many of them are retirees who remain active and vital forces in their communities through volunteerism," Kustra said.

The report, prepared by Kustra's Office of Volunteer and Senior Action, showed that the 82,899 volunteers contributed 5.6 million hours in 53 state offices and departments in fiscal year 1991.

For the purposes of this survey, a volunteer is defined as any non-paid person who donated time, skills or resources to an organized activity for which a state agency or office was responsible.

The monetary value of volunteer hours was calculated at $10.70 an hour, the standard amount used by the National Volunteer Center of the Points of Light Foundation.

"This year's report shows an increase over the 1990 report. In FY 90, nearly 68,000 volunteers provided services valued at $50 million."

"All of the state agency volunteer programs represent special partnerships between private citizens and their government," Kustra said.

"These kinds of programs allow the volunteer to have an inside look at state government and give them a new understanding of what government is all about."

The Illinois Department on Aging manages the largest number of volunteers in a state agency program.

It contributed more than 2.7 million hours with a monetary value of more than $29 million and provided services to the elderly across the state.

The survey also highlights several unique state government volunteer programs.

For example, the Illinois Department of Conservation received nearly 126,000 volunteers from some 8,200 volunteers around the state. Their activities included conducting fisheries field surveys, rehabilitating ponds, planting trees and estimating fish populations.

In addition to supporting state agencies' volunteer programs, the office provides information and technical assistance to people starting volunteer programs, recognizes outstanding volunteer efforts, maintains a resource library on volunteer administration; and others an annual conference for the voluntary sector.

Street) according to the redevelopment agreement.

The pharmacy/food mart would be across Madison Avenue from a newly constructed doctors' office building, which in turn is adjacent to St. Elizabeth Medical Center.

The proposed facility will cost about $1.3 million to construct, Hurwitz Enterprises, based in Springfield, Ill., submitted the proposal to the city.

The property is located in the city's tax increment finance (TIF) district.

According to the redevelopment agreement, the city agrees to acquire about one acre of property — all or part of 10 lots in the westernmost part of the block — and sell it to the developer for $242,050, or roughly $5.56 per square foot.

The city issued $2 million in general obligation bonds last year and authorized the initiation of eminent domain proceedings in order to acquire all property on the block except for McDonald's restaurant at the corner of 21st Street and Madison Avenue.

The city currently is negotiating with the property owners. Some of them have said the city is not negotiating with them fairly.

The city has until Oct. 28 to acquire the property under the terms of the agreement.

Hurwitz Enterprises has formed a partnership known as "Blackstone Group-Granite City" solely for the development deal.

Nearby, a groundbreaking ceremony for a new Madison County Transit District bus terminal is scheduled for 1:30 p.m. tomorrow. The terminal will be located on 19th Street at the site of the former Washington Theater.

Auxiliary plans ham, bean dinner

At the regular meeting of Eagles Auxiliary 1126, it was announced that there will be a ham and bean dinner at the Eagles Home on May 2.

Tickets will be $3.50 for adults and $1.75 for children 12 and under. Proceeds will go to the State Golden Eagle Fund. The public is invited.

Alton Eagles Auxiliary will host the District 7 members to a meeting on Sunday, May 3, at Alton. Members are asked to meet at the Eagles Home, 2558 Madison Ave., at 12:30 p.m. for transportation.

Nine new candidates were initiated into the auxiliary, as follows: Martha Sampson, Pam Romine, Ruth Holder, Debbie O'Beare, Sharon Barker, Lynn Cuvar, Ann Tucker, Linda Richter and Ruthann Thomas. President Del Deloney presented each new member with her receipt of membership and a book of regulations.

Officers participating in the initiation were President Del Deloney; Ruth Jorgensen Jr., past president; Vice President Joanna Spencer; Chaplain Yvonne Gray; and Conductor Barbara Modrusic. The local membership has increased by 84 new members this year.

Chairmen of various state charities gave their favorite reports on proceeds collected to go to the state funds of Cancer, Alzheimer's, Golden Eagle, Heart, Disaster, Kidney, Jimmy Durante Crippled Children, Eagle Education and Diabetes. Deloney presided over the meeting, with Conductor Barbara Modrusic placing the Flag, Bible and Emblem of the home on the altar. Members recited the Pledge of Allegiance to the flag, and Secretary Vincine Zerlan gave the secretary's report.

Five applications for membership were read, and visiting chairman Ann Pates reported sending cards to two members. Katie Kostoff announced that there are cookbooks available for $7.50 each, which will make nice gifts for weddings, Mother's Day, birthdays, etc.

The State Eagles Auxiliary Convention will be held at Moline June 25 through 28.

Attendance prizes were awarded to Sue Allen and Jennie Orlander. Luncheon was served by hostesses Barbara Modrusic, Susie Oliver and Joanna Spencer.

Veterans' rights
topic of seminar
today in Swansea

The Kaskaskia College Veterans Upward Bound Program will be sponsoring a free seminar to discuss the legal rights of veterans, educational assistance and employment programs.

The seminar will be held Thursday, April 30, at the Swansea Improvement Hall, 301 Service, Swansea. For more information please call (618) 234-4300 or toll free from Illinois 1-800-642-0859, extension 254.

St. Mary's Church picnic set for June 19-21

Kathy Dohnal covers the Madison-Venice scene for the Press-Record/Journal. She can be contacted at 877-1096.

A meeting of the St. Mary's Activities Committee was held April 23 in the rectory of St. Mary's Church in Madison. The meeting was called to order by President Cathy Cullen. In attendance were: Ed Whitcotton, vice president; Goldie Rozycki, treasurer; Dolores Rozycki, secretary; Mary Gotzian, Louise Gunn, Alda Yurko, Rosalie Stern, Janet Werner, Sister Bernadette, Carol Tolchert, Cecil Kowalczyk and Lucille Broadway.

Plans for the annual picnic to be held June 19, 20, 21 were discussed. Treasurer Goldie Rozycki reported on the 1991 Snowman's Ball, which was a success. Ed Whitcotton stated that he had only four responses to the Volleyball Tournament planned for April 25. It will have to be cancelled and rescheduled it at a later date for more entrants in order to hold it. Sister Bernadette told the members that a celebration is planned for July 19 to honor the 25th anniversary of Sister Barbara McMullen, and Sister Sharon Rachens, and the 50th anniversary of Sister Mary John. The Activities Committee will help in the planning. The next meeting of the committee will be Thursday, May 7th.

Day care providers meeting May 5

Women in the work force constitute one of the major changes in American society in the past few decades. Currently, almost two-thirds of all children under 14 live in families where the only parent in the home, or both parents, work away from home. The majority of these children are cared for in family day-care homes or child-care programs while parents are at work.

Caring for older children can be a joy, but can also be a challenge. The network to support providers of day care for school-age children will meet Tuesday, May 5, at 7:30 p.m. at the University of Illinois Extension Service, 900 Hillsboro, Edwardsville.

The network supports the needs of providers in curriculum management, and individual caring and sharing.

Pre-registration is requested by May 1. To pre-register mail your name, address and phone number to the University of Illinois Extension Service, Box 427, 900 Hillsboro, Edwardsville, IL 62025.

Please indicate your interest in attending the meeting. Participants are asked to bring an idea for a summer activity to share with other participants. Door prizes will be awarded at the conclusion of the meeting.

For more information, phone Janet Burnett at the Extension office, 656-8400.

On April 26 the ladies attended the annual St. Ann's Society Quilt Bingo at Engelbert Hall.

Attending were Pat Lalich, Mary Firtos, Connie Grupas, Kathy Dohnal, Betty Bucatch and Pat Scherrills.

Members of St. Stanislaus Lodge are being asked to assemble at the Polish Hall at 10:30 to March in procession to St. Mary's Catholic Church on Sunday, May 3. The Lodge is celebrating its 75th anniversary. A catered dinner will follow.

Sacred Heart of Jesus Polish National Catholic Church, located at 930 Reynolds St. in Madison, will sponsor its monthly pierogi sale on Saturday, May 2, from 9 a.m. to noon. Available will be cheese, cabbage, kraut, potato/cheese and plum pudding and also a variety pack. The public is invited.

One coach going, another coming

Wyrostek steps down; led 8-2 Warrior gridders to 1991 playoffs

By Dave Whaley
Staff writer

Unpredictable as he is in a lot of ways, Tom Wyrostek is an outstanding football coach.

Make that was an outstanding coach.

The District 9 school board accepted Wyrostek's resignation Tuesday night as the head football coach at Granite City High School. The talk had been going around school almost since the 1991 season ended. Now it's official.

"When I took the job two years ago I kind of told them I probably wouldn't be doing it for a long time," Wyrostek said Wednesday. "It was a tough decision. We had a great group of kids last year and a great group coming back this year. It just takes a lot of time."

The 1991 Warriors went 8-2 and gave GCHS its first playoff team since 1986. The two losses were to eventual state champion East St. Louis (33-19 on the road Oct. 4 and 26-6 in the first round of the playoffs here Nov. 6). Wyrostek was 5-4 in 1990 after replacing Ron Yates after the 1989 season.

Wyrostek, 50, was the only head football coach in the 10-year history of North High School. He was 52-41-2 there from 1973-82, with playoff appearances in 1974 and 1981. He was 2-6 in 1983 when the two high schools re-merged, giving him an overall record of 68-53-2 (a .560 winning percentage).

A native of Fairmont City, Wyrostek graduated from East St. Louis High School in 1960, and played on some of Dan Devine's great University of Missouri teams in the early 1960s. He served as an assistant coach at GCHS from 1965-72.

Wyrostek's resignation wasn't a complete surprise to athletic director Greg Patton. But it will leave the school board with little time to move.

"The new program needs to be set up fairly quickly," said Patton. "I'm sure the job has been posted (Wednesday). It would have helped if Tom had done this earlier, but sometimes things don't work out that way. He obviously needed this time to make his final decision, although I haven't had a chance to talk directly with him about it yet. He did a great job for us the last two years."

Wyrostek will continue on as a teacher-at-the-high-school, although the part-time assistant athletic director's job he had has been changed to a full-time post and former AD Roger Smith was named to fill that spot at Tuesday's board meeting. Wyrostek is involved with the Granite City Gridiron Club, so he'll still be very much around the scene.

"I think tremendous progress has been made in football here in the last couple of years," he said. "We want to do everything we can to promote football in Granite City."

Three players from last year's team have already signed to play college football. Defensive lineman Larry Curry is going to Northwestern, offensive lineman Larry Earney is going to the U.S. Naval Academy, and offensive/defensive lineman Jeff Heubachman is going to Lindenwood College.

Van Buskirk picked to replace Ohlendorf in charge of basketball team

By Dave Whaley
Staff writer

The chain continues. When Don Deterding retired as the Warrior basketball coach three years ago, top assistant Bill Ohlendorf was moved into the top spot. Now that Ohlendorf has resigned, it's John Van Buskirk's turn.

Van Buskirk, 41, was hired Tuesday night as the new head basketball coach at GCHS. Ohlendorf resigned March 24. Van Buskirk, a 1989 graduate of Granite City High School, has been the varsity assistant coach and the junior varsity coach for the past three seasons under Ohlendorf.

"I was fairly confident the whole way," said Van Buskirk. "They didn't post the job outside the district. I can't say enough about Bill. He was very supportive of me the whole way and always included me in making decisions. I don't mean to make him sound old, but I really got my start under him."

Van Buskirk will oversee a new-look Warrior team when practice begins in November. In charge of Ohlendorf's three seasons, the team was built around 6-9 twins Jeff and Brian Smith, who are graduating. Juniors Leroy Samuels (6-0) and Larry Mosby (5-8) are the top returnees.

"I think we have to take a good look at Patrick Curry, who keeps getting bigger and better," said Van Buskirk. "Steve Rains and Jim Clutts have potential and Les Nunes is an awfully good 3-point shooter. "We won't change things that much, but you have to do what your personnel allows. It will be different not being 6-9 and 6-9 underneath."

This will be Van Buskirk's first head basketball coaching experience. He was an assistant to Roger Thowen at Mascoutah from 1983-87. Previously, he served as the head tennis coach at Granite City North from 1973-83 and was also the tennis coach at Mascoutah from 1983-87. He got his bachelor's degree in secondary education from Hardin-Simmons University in Texas in 1973. He played four years of tennis there and one year of basketball.

"John was the perfect choice," said athletic director Greg Patton. "He knows the system and the kids. There was no negative discussion at all when his name came up."

Taking on the top spot will help fill the empty nest syndrome for Van Buskirk. So John, a high school soccer All-American now playing at Indiana University, graduated from GCHS in 1980, and son Billy graduates next month.

"Debbie (his wife) and I talked about me applying for the job three years ago when Don left," said Van Buskirk. "Not that I would have gotten it, but Bill was the logical choice to step in then. And there might have been the public perception of me coaching John. But I had done that anyway when he was growing up."

Patton said all three assistant coaching positions will be posted. Don Harris and Jack Parker are the remaining assistants.

Lady Warriors take St. Dominic title

Witter's goal beats
Hazelwood Central

By Dave Whaley
Staff writer

O'FALLON, Mo. — Progress in the area rankings has come slowly for the Lady Warrior soccer team. But Tuesday, could have been the first step towards making a big move this week.

No. 6 Granite City edged No. 7 Hazelwood Central 1-0 to win the St. Dominic Tournament on a goal late in the first half by Amanda Witter. Francis Howell North, meanwhile, ranked fifth in the Journal coaches poll, lost two games in the tournament. They were beaten 2-1 by the host team in the third place game.

It would seem the Lady Warriors (11-0-1) would move up to at least fourth next week, and possibly higher if they can beat No. 3 Incarnate Word tonight. Coach Gene Baker isn't too concerned about that yet.

Amanda Witter

rankings is to beat some of the respected St. Louis programs, and Hazelwood Central is one of those. The Hawks are 9-3 and feature the area's leading scorer in junior Kelly Zurmuehlen (20 goals). But both defenders like Kami Kessel, Julie Golan and Beth Rapoff watching her every move, Zurmuehlen was limited to one harmless shot from an impossible angle late in the game. Goalie Stephanie Kult had an easy save and was on her way to her seventh shutout.

Hildreth's hit beats Althoff, 6-5

By Dave Whaley
Staff writer

Bob Stegemeier remembers last year all too well. And revenge was sweet.

Jim Siebel lined an RBI single inches past a diving Jeff Stephens and Ryan Reeves hit a game-ending line drive right at the third baseman as the Warriors lost a tough 4-3 decision to Belleville Althoff in 1991. But the 1992 Warriors got the last laugh Wednesday at Varsity Field.

Senior first baseman Chris Hildreth dunked a single to right with two outs and the bases loaded in the bottom of the seventh to score two runs and make Siebel the losing pitcher in a 6-5 Granite City win. The Warriors improved to 12-5 and the Crusaders, the defending Illinois Class A state champions, fell to 6-9.

"We like to make it exciting," said Stegemeier. "It feels good to beat these guys like this after the tough loss last year."

For much of the game, it didn't look like the Warriors' day. They hit several line drives that were caught, and Althoff took advantage of sophomore pitcher Jeff Ridenour's wildness (eight walks) to take a 3-0 lead. Matt Gula was safe at the plate on a controversial play in the third when he flipped over catcher Jeff Luffman and didn't appear to touch the plate. That led to another run on Jeff Middendorf's RBI double.

Marq Patton drove in a run with an infield out in the fourth, then Luffman's ground ball scored Bill Herman in the fifth. Herman was 4 for 4 and is batting .400.

Rieser wins, loses on same day

By Dave Whaley
Staff writer

Gordon Moore Park in Alton is usually a chamber of horrors for Granite City baseball teams. Joe Rieser's solution: Get out of there in a hurry.

Rieser and reliever Chad Dooly combined on a five-hitter Tuesday as the Warriors beat Alton 1-0 in a Southwestern Conference game that lasted only an hour and 45 minutes. Les Nunes drove in the only run with a third-inning double.

It was Rieser's fifth win of the season, although he also got a loss Tuesday when it was ruled that the April 16 game at Belleville West ended in a 5-4 win for the Maroons.

That game had originally been suspended after 5½ innings in a

(See RIESER, Page 38)

The Warriors took a 4-3 lead with a two-out rally in the sixth. Hildreth singled past the third baseman and Patton blooped one into center. Hildreth went to third and Patton took second on the throw. Les Nunes then dunked one into short left center to score both runners.

"It looked like it would be a day where we wouldn't score much because we hit a bunch of line drives that were caught," said Stegemeier. "Then we started getting some of those 'Granite City hits' (Tom Pile's term)."

Joe Rieser
... record now 5-1

But the momentum swung back to Althoff in the seventh. Ridenour walked the first two and was relieved by Ben Hicks. With two outs, Middendorf hit a hard shot off the pitching rubber and it bounced high into center field as two runs scored. Althoff had mopped up a bump play one out earlier, but it had moved the second runner to second base and that made the difference.

"There was no way we could have fielded that ball if it hadn't hit the rubber," said Stegemeier. "But if Les or Marc could have (See ALTHOFF, Page 38)

Young Warriors 3rd in boys, girls meets

By Mike Kelly
Staff writer

Dave McClain is taking it one meet at a time. There's really no other way to look at it. The Warrior track team has a young lineup that could develop into a solid squad by next year. But for now, they're just taking things in stride.

That was evident Tuesday at the Madison County Meet in Collinsville. The Warriors scored 42½ points and finished third in the four-team Red Division field. Alton won the title with 119 points. Edwardsville was a distant second with 79 points.

"I knew we weren't going to come in here and beat out Alton and Edwardsville," McClain said. "We're just not that strong this season. But we had a respectful showing, and we produced a few medalists."

Senior Larry Curry produced a double by winning the discus (154-0) and the shot put (48-1). Lance Reynolds joined Curry in the winner's circle by capturing the 1600 meter run (4:41.4).

"Larry is always going to score for us in the discus and shot put," McClain said. "He's one of the guys we're heavily counting on this season."

Another who falls into that category is Ron Selph, who was second in the discus (152-6). "Ron is pretty dependable," McClain said. "He's played his role perfectly behind Larry. Both of those guys have scored a bunch of points for us in the field events. You can't ask for much more."

"I'm just sorry Larry, Lance

and Ron will be graduating this season. They've been a real shot in the arm for this program. The question is can we replace them next season?"

One who could be on the brink of stardom is junior Eric Miner. He medaled in three events

County track Red Division

Tuesday, Miner was fifth in the 110 high hurdles (16.3), fourth in the 300 intermediate hurdles (43.2) and tied Dale Schomdt of Collinsville for fifth in the high jump (5-8).

"Eric is an up-and-coming contributor," McClain said. "He's been competing on a bad (left) knee, but the guy isn't a quitter. He's always working hard for us."

Miner, who has a great interest in the high jump, doesn't mind being versatile.

"It can get hectic at times," he said. "But running the hurdles keeps me mentally alert for the high jump. I don't mind going from one event to the other."

"And my knee isn't bothering me that much. It hasn't affected my performance in the hurdles, but it has held me back in the high jump."

His best effort to date was 6-2 last season. His best jump this year was 6-0 before he hurt his knee.

"It's an old football injury," he said. "I reagravated it in practice. But I've had a pretty good season. I know it's going to make me work that much harder for next year. I came in a little out of shape this year. That won't happen again."

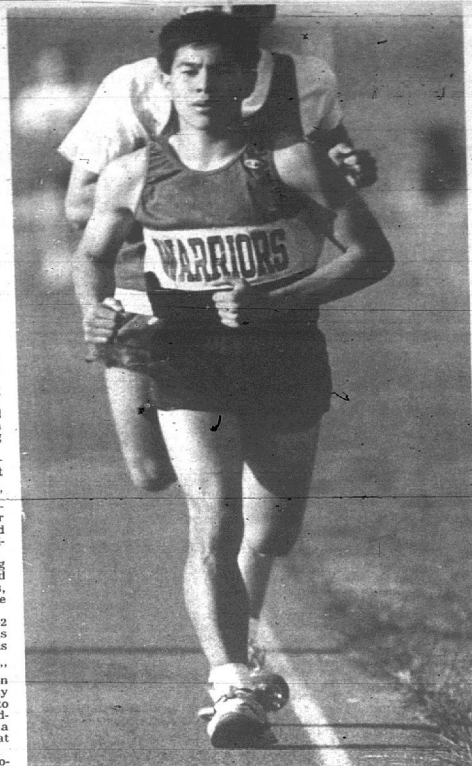

Apparently, McClain's philosophy is rubbing off in the ranks. "We just want our people to experience some individual success," he said.

The Lady Warriors scored 27 points and finished third in the girls meet. Vicky Brandt won the discus (92-2½) and finished third in the shot put (27-4). Jeanine MacMillan was second in the high jump (4-10) and Jennifer Wheeler was second in the 1600. Edwardsville won the girls meet with 138 points.

Trojans a strong 2nd; Trojanettes finish 3rd

By Mike Kelly
Staff writer

Charlie Steptoe had reason to smile Tuesday.

The Trojan track team put together its best effort of the season and finished second in the Green Division of the Madison County Meet at Collinsville High School. Madison won five events and piled up 105 points. Highland claimed its third straight championship with 150 points.

"I'm pleased with the results," said Steptoe. "We finally put something together. There weren't any outside distractions. Our people were focused."

Alphonso Brandon led the way by winning the long jump (20-4), finishing second in the 110 high hurdles (16.1), finishing third in the triple jump (39-9) and placing third in the 400 meter dash (54.2). Robert Weathers backed that up by winning the 100 (11.2) and finishing third in the 200 (23.4).

County track Green Division

Madison also won the 4x100 relay (44.7) and the 4x200 (1:34.4).

"Alphonso is an important man to our team," Steptoe said. "He's our main man when it comes to scoring points. But we've been blessed with several individuals that can score in a meet of this nature."

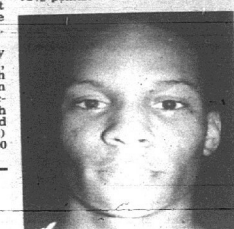

Madison displayed its versatility throughout the meet and kept the heat on Highland. The Trojans actually led the meet through eight events. But Highland grabbed the lead for good by winning the 800 meter run behind Kyle Kombrink (2:01), and gradually pulled away.

"You could say their depth did us in," Steptoe said. "But the main thing was getting a solid performance out of our people. We brought 13 people to this meet and a lot of them contributed."

But Steptoe isn't about to lose any sleep over finishing second at the county meet.

"This team is capable of doing well at the (Red Bud) sectional," he said. "It's obvious where we're strong by just looking at the score sheet. We could have quite a few state qualifiers in several events. It's just a matter of staying focused."

Highland made it a clean sweep by winning the girls meet. The Lady Bulldogs claimed their 16th consecutive county meet title. Madison finished third with 71½ points.

5-5 tie and was to be completed May 12. But the ruling was to push the game back to its last full completed inning and end it. West led 5-4 after five, and that's how the game will end. Rieser was the pitcher of record. "I think all conference games should be played to a conclusion with the exception of the 10-run rule," said Warrior coach Bob Stegemeyer. "But I thought we had gotten a break because I was under the impression that this (reverting back to the last full inning played) was the rule. Apparently, Chuck Hasenstab (West coach) had told them West had batted in the bottom of the sixth."

So the Warriors are 3-2 in conference play, a game behind the Maroons. Tuesday's game was a makeup of the April 9 rainout in Altan. Shortstop Lee Nunes doubled home Marc Patton, who had reached on an infield hit, for the only run of the game in the third inning.

Left-handed John Puent was the touch-luck loser for the Redbirds (2-3, 9-6). "It was Joe's best game yet, and he has pitched some good ones," said Stegemeyer. "And Dooley is proving to be a very good relief pitcher for an inning or two."

Rieser struck out three and allowed five hits. His fourth walk led to the bottom of the seventh. Dooley came on and Altan bunted the runner to second. But he got the last two outs, including Puent on a pop fly to end the game.

Left fielder Jeff Ridenour also saved a run in the fourth when he gunned down a runner at the plate on John Thompson's single. "It was a great throw by Jeff," said Stegemeyer. "The runner was dead to rights. It wasn't even close."

The Redbirds also had two runners on in the fifth, but Rieser escaped. The Warriors only managed four hits.

NOTES: Granite City has been moved out of the Edwardsville Regional to Belleville West. They will join a field consisting of East, West, East St. Louis, Lincoln, Cahokia and Collinsville. Stegemeyer doesn't know why the switch was made, and he doesn't agree with it.

"One of the two regionals has to have seven teams, so I have no idea why the IHSA did it," he said. "Edwardsville is only 12 miles away and Belleville is 25 miles. Edwardsville has been without a doubt the top team in that regional the last few years, but they're very beatable this season."

Evans, Logan score as 12-0-1 girls beat Altan

By Dave Whaley
Staff writer

The Lady Warrior soccer team keeps rolling along. Granite City picked up its fourth straight shutout Wednesday with a 2-0 shutout of Altan at Memorial Stadium. Lynsey Evans and Ann Logan scored in the second half as the Lady Warriors won their sixth in a row and improved to 12-0-1.

"We finally settled down and made some good plays," said coach Gene Baker. "I really want to heap some praise on Lynsey Evans. She played a good all-around game and showed some poise on the goal."

Goalie Stephanie Kull, who got her third shutout in three days and her eighth of the season, started the winning play with a long punt in the final minute of the third quarter. Amanda Witter flicked it to Kami Kessel moving down the right wing.

Kessel was able to cross it to Evans breaking down the middle for a clean breakaway on Redwing goalie Emily Ferguson. Evans took her time and beat Ferguson with a crisp low shot with only 32 seconds left in the quarter.

It was a good breakout and very unselfish play by Kami," said Baker.

Granite City put it on ice with 17:29 left in the game. Witter and Beth Rapoff worked a short-corner kick from the left side. Rapoff sent it into the penalty area and Logan was waiting at the far side for the point-blank shot.

Logan was later sent flying by massive Altan back Maggie Maher and had to be helped off.

great today," said Baker. "Zurmuehlen is a great shooter. We kept Kami in front of her, Julie behind her and Beth was sweeping."

Hawk coach Dean Schulenberg was impressed. "Granite City is definitely among the top four teams we've played," he said. "In fact, Lincoln State Word is the best we've seen and Granite City is next."

"They just didn't give Kelly a lot of room to work with. We've scored about 55 goals this year, so we have other people besides her who can score. But Granite City just played a great defensive game."

There wasn't much offense. Witter supplied the only goal just three minutes before halftime on a free kick from the right sideline after Holly Farnsworth had been pulled down. Witter's left-footer deflected off a Hawk defender and then through the hands of goalie Michelle Tecker for the senior's

The Lady Warriors survived a good deal of mild pressure from the Redwings in the third quarter before their fastbreak goal. "Even though they had the territorial advantage in that quarter, I felt we made fewer mistakes," said Baker. "The Redbirds are very good, and we put the Dutko sisters on them to have a little fun with it. They did very well."

Granite City is 75 percent through a rugged week. Perhaps might win. We had some lulls, but we were able to take advantage of theirs."

"The beginning of the game was theirs, but that goal was a tough one to defend. This was a good team win against a very strong team."

caught the ball before it bounced in the outfield; they wouldn't have had the second run. I guess they knew we would come back and wanted to make it exciting."

Herman led off the bottom of the seventh with his fourth hit and Luffman bunted him to second. Billy Van Buskirk and John Cozart drew walks with two outs to fill the bases for Hildreth, who dunked the first pitch to right as Van Buskirk slid home with the winning run.

Hicks (3-0) got the win in relief.

"Finally, somebody walks some of our hitters and pays for it," said Stegemeyer. "We've got some young kids really performing. It's fun coaching this team right now."

Credit union wins top rating

The GC Catholic Credit Union has been awarded a #1 Camel Rating, the highest rating possible for a state-chartered credit union.

The audit was performed by the Department of Financial Institutions of the State of Illinois. It is the third year in a row that the credit union has received the highest rating.

The credit union was chartered on July 14, 1955, and was formerly named St. Elizabeth Parish C.U. The membership includes any member of either Catholic church in Granite City and their family members.

The Board of Directors is committed to keeping the lowest loan rates and paying the highest dividends on savings to credit union members. For more information, call 877-8837.

Pontoon Title Company cited

The law office of Phillip A. Theis, doing business as Pontoon Title Company, is among the top 2 percent of the 2,500 member agents of Attorneys' Title Guaranty Fund Inc. in Illinois.

The announcement was made by Attorneys' Title Guaranty Fund at its corporate headquarters in Champaign.

Pontoon Title was the top producer in Madison County in the number of real estate title insurance policies issued during the year 1991.

Pontoon Title, located at 2145 Pontoon Road in Granite City, is the only title company offering both title insurance services and real estate closings in Granite City.

Theis has provided complete real estate loan and sale services to buyers, sellers, real estate agents and lenders throughout Madison County since 1965.

Area's home building showing an upsurge

By Roger McGrath
Correspondent

Homebuyers on both sides of the Mississippi River are raising the roof of the local homebuilding industry.

The 671 permits for single-family homes that contractors on the Missouri side of the metropolitan area took out last month make March the decade's best month yet.

Demand is high for them, too, Metro East homebuilders say. In Edwardsville, Anderson/Winfield Custom Homes already has begun construction on 29 homes, the same number built last year.

Fulford Construction sold eight homes before work on the display house began at a new subdivision between Fairview Heights and Belleville.

There are people out there who want new homes and, with interest rates down, they're going to," says John VonBergren of J.A. VonBergren Construction Co.

The first weekend his new subdivision north of Alton was open, 230 people toured the display. More than 1,000 visited a new Whitaker Homes development in St. Charles the day it opened and all 150 lots were sold in a little over two months, reports chairman Bob Whitaker.

"It's staggering; it's incredible," he says of the demand for new homes. His crews are pouring foundations at a 15-per-week pace, which means Whitaker will be turning keys over to the buyers at a rate of two a day in July and August.

"This is, by far, the biggest year we've ever had," he says.

Also posting record activity are two of the region's biggest homebuilders, McBride & Sons.

January was the best in the company's 46-year history — and Mayer Homes, which had sold 212 homes worth $33.5 million through late April, a record pace.

Homebuilders cite a couple of reasons for the boom in sales.

First, Operation Desert Storm kept buyers on the sidelines last year, particularly around Scott Air Force Base.

Later, recession kept buyers on the sidelines. That pent-up demand for new homes exploded this year once interest rates on 30-year mortgages fell into the 8 percent range.

"I think confidence is coming back," says Bob Wolfe, president of Falcon Associates, O'Fallon, Ill. "We have the pent-up demand of people who have been cautious. With interest rates down, they're able to sell (their existing home) to the first-time homebuyer."

Freeing up cash for a down payment on a new home.

The 1992 homebuyer isn't a free-spender, builders admit. In fact, the buyers are driving a hard bargain.

Those days, however, are numbered, as materials suppliers and subcontractors, forced to hold or even cut prices during homebuilding's two-year recession, begin to push through price hikes.

Contractor meets with Cabinet

Glenn Lindsay of Granite City met in Washington this spring with Secretary of Transportation Andrew Card and Secretary of Defense Richard Cheney as part of the annual Construction Leadership Conference of the Associated General Contractors of America (AGC).

Lindsay, of L.E. Lindsay Construction Co., a general contracting firm, attended the meeting as president of the Southern Illinois Builders Association.

During the two-day conference, the construction leaders addressed issues vital to the construction industry, legislation and federal regulations. The group was also addressed by U.S. Rep. John A. Boehner.

There Is NO Magic Formula For Mental Health

May is Mental Health Month. This year's theme is coping. We can't eliminate the problems and stresses of daily life, but we can learn to cope with them. Coping is a skill that everyone needs.

The Madison County Community Mental Health 708 Board believes that coping skills can make a critical difference in our lives. So the Board is observing Mental Health Month by sponsoring a series of articles—for adults, parents and children, and seniors—which provide information on learning to cope.

To begin the observance of Mental Health Month, the Board is joining the National Mental Health Association in sponsoring a national teleconference on Friday, May 1, from 1:00 to 3:00 p.m., at the Holiday Inn, in Alton. The topic of the teleconference is depression in children, adolescents and the elderly. The public is welcome to attend, and admission is free. For more information, call 692-6200, extension 4358.

The following agencies join the mental health Board in observing Mental Health Month:

- Cerebral Palsy of Southwestern Illinois
- Community Counseling Center of Northern Madison County
- Crisis Services of Madison County
- Epilepsy Association of Southwestern Illinois
- Illinois Center for Autism
- Mental Health Services, Southern Madison County
- Organization for the Advancement of the Handicapped (O.A.T.H.)
- Plaza Health Care

Movies have power to make — or revive — hit songs

By Bill Beggs
Correspondent

REVIVAL: "Bohemian Rhapsody" is vaulting back up the Billboard Hot 100 chart after a hiatus of many years because of the movie "Wayne's World." The revival of the song also is a result of singer Freddie Mercury's tragic death from AIDS last year. In any event, a hit movie can either make — or remake — an artist or a tune.

1. In what year did "Bohemian Rhapsody" first make it into the Top 10 — and who else, with vocalist Mercury, comprised the group that recorded it?

2. "Raindrops Keep Fallin' On My Head," a No. 1 for four weeks in 1970 for B.J. Thomas, was featured in what movie?

Cast members get ready for Friday's performance of "Flat Stanley."

'Flat Stanley' performance set for Friday at SIUE theater

"Flat Stanley," a play based on the delightful classic children's book by Jeff Brown, will be performed Friday, May 1, by the Muni/Student Theatre Project at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville.

Presented as part of SIUE's A Season For The Child, sponsored by The SIUE Friends of Theater and Dance and TheBANK of Edwardsville, "Flat Stanley" will be staged at 5 and 7:30 p.m. in SIUE's Communications Building.

A play for the entire family, "Flat Stanley" tells the story of Arthur Lambchop, who awakens one day to find his older brother Stanley flattened by a bulletin board that has fallen from the wall by his bed during the night.

Stanley, who suddenly can slide under closed doors and travel by mail in an envelope, becomes an irritation to his younger brother. Brown explores Arthur's feelings of rivalry and tells us that it's OK to be different.

Tickets are $5; students, seniors and children less than 12 years of age, $3.50. For reservations call the SIUE department of theater and dance box office weekdays between 1:30 and 3:30 p.m. at 692-2774.

Joffe saves 'City of Joy'; Swayze gets upstaged

By Harry Hamm
Correspondent

Many people will go to see director Roland Joffe's "City of Joy" thinking that headliner Patrick Swayze's character, Houston heart surgeon Max Lowe, is the key player. Not so. Swayze is dramatically upstaged by a distinguished Indian actor named Om Puri.

Puri's character, Hasari Pal, is a poverty-stricken farmer who has moved his wife and children from the Indian countryside to Calcutta in search of a better life. In no time at all, what little money Hasari has is stolen by a con artist. Hasari and family are forced to live on the streets.

Their plight improves when he is finally able to scratch out a meager income as a rickshaw puller after groveling before a dishonest landowner and businessman. The family also gets to live in a small charitable settlement run by an English nun named Joan Bethel, played by Pauline Collins.

Bethel calls her area the City of Joy Self-Help Settlement. It is there that Max, who has fled to India to find some unexplained brand of inner-peace, meets Hasari. Max helps Joan with some expert medical care for her clinic, but more importantly, the influence of Hasari on Max gives the confused doctor the perspective he fled to India to find.

Max ends up at the settlement after he is beaten and robbed by some back-alley thugs.

I have read that although the script of "City of Joy" was pre-approved by Indian government officials, they are not pleased with the way the movie depicts Calcutta and some of its poorer citizens. That probably means the depiction is accurate. Hasari's story is more genuine than Max's. Max's motives and past are so lightly treated that his actions in India never ring true. In the meantime, Collins' character sprouts her lines like ordained platitudes, another aspect that gives "City of Joy" a sometimes false veneer.

On balance, however, are Joffe's dogged direction and Puri's knowing, sensitive portrayal, which make "City of Joy" a picture worth seeing. Rated PG-13 (some violence and vivid depiction of leprosy and squalid living conditions).
